JOHN VICTOR STOEM -- REQUESTED ACTION

- I. LETTER to SECRETARY OF STATE CYRUS VANCE (with copy to Ashley Hewitt, Director, Office for Carribean Affairs):
 - a. Asking him to direct U.S. Ambassador to communicate official concern of U.S. Government and the Congress of the U.S. that child be safely restored to parents;
 - b. Asking him to seek action by Guyanese government to facilitate safe return of child by negotiation with Jones and by all other necessary means.
- II. LETTER to FORBES BURNHAM, Prime Minister of Guyana, and to DR. PTCLEMY REID, Deputy Prime Minister:
 - a. Communicating your concern that child be safely restored to parents:
 - b. Requesting Guyangse government to facilitate safe return of child by direct negotiations with Jones and by all other necessary means;
 - c. Pointing out that it is in the best interests of the Stoems, the Peoples Temple Agricultural Mission, and the Cooperative Republic of Guyana that the child be safely returned so as to avoid dangers inherent, in a confrontation.

III. POINTS TO POSSIBLY INCLUES:

- a. The only issue is the restoration of a child to his parents.
- b. Jones, the child, and the Stooms are all U.S. citizens, making this a particularly appropriate case for comity.
- c. Jones was found by the California Superior Court to be properly before it, and the order of the court is unequivocally clear in ordering Jones to deliver the child.
- d. The parents have taken all reasonable action by submitting themselves to the courts. By failing to personally appear and raise defenses, Jones has in effect defaulted.
- e. The California Superior court is so concerned as to have ordered the District Attorney to essist in obtaining compliance by Jones. The District Attorney has sent official letters to the Prime Minister, Deputy Prime Minister, and Foreign and Justice Minister (Fred Wills) but received no response.
- f. Jones has knowledge of the order but refuses to comply.
 Jones refused to let parents even see their son on their visit to Guyana this month.

JOHN VICTOR STOEN, Age 6, Son of Grace and Throthy Stoen, San Francisco, California. Now held illegally by Jim Jones, leader of Peoples Temple Agricultural Mission, Jonestown, Corperative Republic of Guyana, South America.

Situation:

John Victor Stoen, now age 6, was born to Grace and Timothy Stoen in 1972 and raised in the community of Peoples Temple, San Francisco, California, of which his parents were active members. By 1976, the Peoples Temple was a significant political force in Northern California.

In June 1977, Timothy Stoem, them at the Peoples Temple Agricultural Mission in Guyana, quit the Temple in disagreement over its authoritarian practices, but left John Victor with his teachers at the Mission. The Mission, known as Jonestown, is in a remote jungle area accessible only by air or boat. The U.S. Embassy in Georgetown, Guyana, reports that some 850 Americans are believed to be in regidence.

In July 1977, New Most magazine reported charges by 30 former Feoples Temple members that Jones controls the organization through fraud, fear, physical beatings and appropriation of the property of its members. Jones thereafter resigned his position as Chairman of the San Francisco Housing authority and moved to Guyana. See Newsweek, August 15, 1977, attached.

In August 1977, the California Superior Court issued an ex-parte order giving custody of John Victor to Grace Stoen. Jones has not rulessed the child in response to this order. In September 1977, habeas corpus proceedings against Jones were brought in the Guyanese courts, but the proceedings have been contested by Jones on procedural grounds and progress has been extremely slow. In November 1977, the Stooms, still legally merried although separated since July 1976, appeared. together in California Superior Court and were awarded joint legal custody of John Victor. The Court ordered the San Francisco District Attorney to take all actions necessary to obtain release of the child from Jones. Jones has refused to comply with this order and continues to contest the proceedings in Guyana.

Jones has claimed to be the natural father of John Victor, but has not raised this issue is either the California or Guyanese Court proceedings.

All persons involved in the matter are U.S.

Problem:

Jones strongly resists release of the child and is politically influential in the highest circles of the Guyanese Government. The court is expected to sward custody to the Stoens, but enforcement may require a political decision to use the Guyanese Army and could result in harm to John Victor or other innocent persons. The Stoens wish to avoid a dangerous confrontation with Jones and to enlist the sid of the U.S. and Guyanese Governments to this end.

Requested Actions:

Ask the Secretary of State, Cyrus Vance, to direct the U.S. Ambarsador to Guyana to communicate the official concern of the U.S. Government and the Congress of the United States that John Victor Stoen be safely restored to his parents, and to further direct the U.S. Ambassador to seek action by the Guyanese Government to facilitate his safe return by negotiation with Jones and all other necessary means.

Communicate this concern and requested action directly in a letter to Forbes Burnham, Prime Minister, and Dr. Ptolemy Reid, Deputy Prime Minister of Guyana.

Chronology:

A chronology of events is attached.

JOHN VICTOR STOEN -- CHRONOLOGY OF EVENTS

- Jamuary 25, 1972: John Victor Steen born to Grace and Timothy Steen in Santa Rosa, California, and raised in community of Peoples Tample.
- July 1976: Grace leaves Temple.
- February 1977: Timothy resigns position as Assistant District Attorney and Special Prosecutor for City of San Francisco to go to Peoples Temple Agricultural Mission in Guyana, South America.
- June 1977: Timothy quits Peoples Temple, leaving John Victor with his teachers in Guyana.
- July 1977: Jim Jones, leader of the Peoples Temple, is attacked in the Press. Jones resigns his position as Chairman of the Sex Francisco Housing Authority and moves to the Mission, which is in a remote jungle area of Guyana.
- August 1977: The California Superior Court issues an experte order giving custody of John Victor to Grace. Jones is notified but refuses to permit John to be returned.
- September 6 and 10, 1977: Rabens corpus proceedings are brought against Jones in the Supreme Court of the Cooperative Republic of Guyane. A writ of hebens corpus is issued, making John Victor a ward of the court, ordering him brought into court, and granting leave to communes contempt proceedings against Jones. Jones evalues personal service. The court authorizes substituted service, which is made with the help of the Guyanese Army.
- September (a few days later): The Deputy Frinc Minister of Guyane, the Hon. Dr. Ptolemy Reid, returns to Guyane from a trip abroad. All effective action in the "summary" habeas corpus proceedings stops.

November 18, 1977: Timothy and Grace Stoom testify together in Catlifornia Superior Court, and are swarded joint legal custody. The Superior Court determines that it has personal jurisdiction over Jones and that Jones has been properly served; the court determines that Jones is in violation of its order to appear.

The court orders:

- a) "that Reverend Jim Jones . . . ismediately deliver the minor, JOHN -VICTOR STORM, to the Petitioner."
- b) that the San Francisco District Attorney "take all actions necessary. // to secure Reverend Jim Joses' compliance with this order."
- c) that petitioner "is granted leave to institute contempt proceedings against the Reverent Jim Jones."
- November 18, 1977: The engue mentioned court order is served on Joseph attorney of record in San Francisco. Jones does not comply.

- December 16, 1977: The U.S Department of State writes a letter to District Attorney Freitas saying in effect that the State Department is unable to help and that the "question of John Victor Stoem's custody will almost certainly be decided by the Guyanese court...on the basis of Guyanese law."

 The Guyana officials do not respond to Freitas.
- December 1977: The Stoens are advised by their Guyanese lawyer that final argument on procedural objections to the habess corpus writ will commence January 7, 1978.
- January 4, 1978: Stooms travel from San Francisco to Georgetown, Guyana.
- January 7, 1978: The Guysness court hears argument in the habeas corpus proceeding. The Stoens are present. Jones appears by counsel.
- James 10, 1978: At the conclusion of argument, the court takes the matter "under submission." The Stooms' Guyanese lawyer advises that the cutlook for a favorable order confirming habeas corpus against Jones is very positive and that a decision should be issued in matter of days.
- Jamery 13, 1978: At 3:50 P.M. an offical of the Guyana Imagration Officer comes to the Tower Rotal and advises the Stooms that they must be out of the country before midnight the next day. No reason is given, although vises are good through Jamery 19. The advices the U.S. Rebessy in Guyana that the order is illegal and that he will stay but Grace will go to Trimidad. The next day while Grace is checking begans at the sirport, the Stooms are informed by a Guyanese Imagration offical that the order has been rescinded. Though requested, no explanation is given.
- James 17: 1978: The Street action by their Guyanese Lawyer that a decipies may not be reached for a marter of weeks. The matter has now been pending since September.

January 18, 1978: The Stooms decide to leave Guyann and to fly back when the court's decision is imminent. At Guyana's Timebally court, Time is surrounded by three agents of Jones and the Peoples Temple who demand that they drop the court proceedings and verbally threaten their lives.

January 1978: The Stooms remain married with a possibility of reconciliation and are in full agreement and barmony on all questions pertaining to the raising of John Victor.

According to some former church members, however, Jones's power is based as much on fear and fraud as on faith. His services are often held behind locked doors, and even then Jones is protected by bodyguards. The breaksway parishioners described ritual beatings and humiliating group encounters held at allnight sessions. A former secretary to Jones reported that the preacher faked healings by displaying chicken guts as tissue he had mimenlously removed from
