

Feb. 13th

TO: JJ
RE: Stateside behaviour
FR: CRL

While in the states I did many things that I never expected to have to face, I certainly didn't expect to feel the guilt that I feel now, nor did I anticipate that my conscience would be haunted like it presently is. At the time I crowded my mind, kept in motion, so I wouldn't have to think, feel guilt, so I could escape. I have a terrible time dealing with guilt appropriately. Although I know that death is totally unacceptable to you, I often fantasize a tragic accident, a fatal snake bite, anything but guilt.

The three worst things that I did were:

1. I stole over $250.00 from Patty C., when she was leaving she evidently withdrew thousands of dollars from some account. She left the money laying around, exposed on the dashboard of an unlocked car ect. I just took it. I also ripped SB off frequently.
2. I was unaccountalbe with my time. I would go in cycles of working, work hard day and night on a project, even drugery and when it was over and there was no urgent or pressing project (by my own standard of judgement) i would slack off and slide by.
3. I drank a few times after ripping off some PR liquer. I got drunk once, late one night I drank a full bottle of alcohol and passed out. I woke up to vomit all over the floor of my room in the PA room. I crawled to the door could hardly open it and I don't know how I made it down the ladder and to the restroom and back up again. The next AM I had to get up at 6.00 AM and had the worst headach I've ever had, KL and I had to go to skid row to locate drunks to make messages for our dear X-mmembers. It was totally unpleasant and I never desired to drink like that again.

WHY??

I deeply regret that I viewed myself as a person who was owed something. I allowed myself hostility, resentments, rationalizations. "If PC or SB could have an unlimited expense account, than I could have a share of it." I felt it was my right to have the opportunity to do everything wrong that I saw others do. Disgustingly, I never felt as strongly about my right to live up to principle that was demonstrated all around me. I dislike myself, and the same pattern that I have of totally discounting other people comes home to me and I know that there is not way that I can be considered a decent person. I resolve not to give up and give in to this but at least act like I am capable of being principled. I have often desired to die heroically because I feel that it would be the only way to half-way validate my existance. Life does not provide the dramatics necessary to fulfill our fantasies so instead of meaninglÿss apologies, I would like to cont. to plod along. I appreciate the opportunity you have given me to work with children because children mean a lot to me. I will continue to work a day and a ½ in the field and several hours a day per week, and try to be humble when I am not to be.

I have made a real effort to put a muffler on my motor mouth and not spout off negativity. I think that I have made drastic improvements in that area, and don't even do it with Sarah anymore.

It doesn't account for much in the balance but I have never gotten involved sexually with any outsider when the opportunity arose in the states.

BB-23-0

TO: HILL
FROM: MR. EDWARD JOHN, the man with the chickens
FR: CRL

Oct. 28th

Particularly noteworthy:

- His wife works in the US EMBASSY in the POLITICAL SECTION. She is African born, Ivory Coast.
- He is a member of the GDF and really avoided answering what his specific job or role was, mentions something about being plainsclothes man.
- he mentioned something about visiting the project/

Details:

- everything that he proposes to do for us is above board and has been done for others. He approached his supervisor about helping us out and the man said that he had never been approached himself by any of our members.
- they have the most successful farm in the country and produce too much for their own consumption.
- he said that they will slaughter the chickens for us.
- they will give us a variety of seeds
- they produce a lot of pumpkin, dislike it and would like to give some away.
- they catch so much fish that at times it goes to waste.
- he said that he would like to take a group down to pick fruit and he came looking for the house so he could do that ( he couldn't find the house at the time.
- he was very much impressed with the scale model of the project.
- He will be in contact with us again.

I had to type this in a hurry and am not sure I have the full details because I haven't been able to talk to everyone involved in the situation. We are proceeding cautiously in view of his connections, we are looking the gift horse in the mouth. But we don't want to miss out on benefiting from his generosity.)

B13-23-p