Dear Jim:

It was with consternation that I read this morning that you were not feeling well. I know a little bit about how hard you push yourself and with what dedication you operate. But I can only join the humdreds of others who are telling you to "Please take care of yourself". There is too much to be done and we need you well and healthy!

Warm regards.

Sincerely,

Rita

Dear Jim:

I assume by the time this letter reaches you that you have fully recovered and are once again working 22-1/2 hour days. I would like to suggest that you consider reducing your work to a 20 hour day at least once a week so I can compete.

Cheers and look forward to seeing you soon.

Warm regards,
